

Wine of the month

Chapel Hill Parson's Nose Shiraz

The shallow soils over limestone in maritime influenced vineyards between McLaren Vale and Maslin Beach and also around Bowering Hill provide explosive blueberries and liquorice with finesse and a wonderfully framing tannin structure. Up in the foothills of the Mount Lofty ranges, a Kangarilla vineyard offers Indian spice complexities that many higher priced wines would simply love to have. The added length and savoury tannins of this component and the use of some French oak result in a beguiling final release that is extraordinary.

All this for only $19.50 per bottle!
